

Presenting Antonio Borges of Brazil

It was early 2005 when his hometown (Niteroi, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil) was chosen to host the 24th ISA World Cup, in September. So the ABS contacted Antonio Borges, at the time, director of the host club. He loved so much the idea of hosting an International Tournament of “an unknown but very nice sport” that started to play and had shuffleboard lessons twice a week at Luiz Pimentel’s particular court to become a member of the Brazilian team. And with few months of training, Antonio had a good performance at the ISA World Cup, even beating some much more experienced players from Canada and USA.

Antonio will be competing for the first time in a foreign country, in Dieppe, Canada. Additionally, this is the first ISA event in which Antonio will participate together with his son Bernar.
